

THE KANGAROO AND THE BALD EAGLE

By Ryan Caplan

It was a nice day in the wild. Along came a Kangaroo. He was big and strong. His name is Jack Black. He was enjoying hanging out with his friends and joking around.

Out of nowhere, a Bald Eagle came along. Her name is Rose. She represents the military. She tried to encourage Jack Black and his friends to sign up for the military.

“I think you guys would be great in the military,” Rose said.

Jack Black and his friends said, “OK, we will try it.”

Rose said, “I will be there to watch over you and make sure you get home safe to your family.”
