

THE DOG AND THE PIG

Meredith Arout, Aaron Bialer, Anthony DiCostanza, Michael Halbreich, Andrew Mosenberg, Joseph Padalino, and Greg Perosi

A very long road filled with cobblestones runs past an abandoned town. The moon is low in the sky behind a tree, making it very dark. A Dog comes down the road and meets a Pig.

“What’s up with all that oink, oink, oink?” says the Dog.
“Where’s the bacon at?”

“Woof, woof, woof,” mocks the Pig.

Suddenly, rain starts coming straight down. The thunder and lightning are so loud, the birds fly away. Then the wind howls so hard, a tornado seems possible.

“Why am I stuck in this rain?” yowls the Dog. “I’m getting drenched.”

“Well, come into this abandoned house if you need to,” says the Pig. “You will feel safer here.”

*Kindness is the best weapon.
Be respectful to others even when they are not being nice*

Illustration by Meredith Arout

