

THE CAT AND THE HORSE

Eva Vega

One day someone brought a Horse and put the Horse in the field. There was a Cat in the field and the two animals started to talk.

"I'm thinking of running very fast through the field and then eating carrots and apples. Do you want to jump on my back and come with me?" said the Horse to the Cat.

The Cat said, "I do, but I am scared." A thunderstorm scared the Cat. He jumped on the Horse's back, and they ran into the barn on the farm.

The Horse hugged the Cat, and the Cat said, "Let's hang out together as friends."

Sometimes, even when we are hungry, we change our plans to help others.
